

Data Catalog :

Quick overview of Gold Layer view table with Column name, Data type and Description
So it gives a clear idea regarding the table structure.

1) gold.dim_customers

Description : This dimension table stores comprehensive customer details, including unique identifiers, personal information, and demographic attributes like location, marital status, gender, and registration dates.

Columns :

Column Name	Metadata	Description
customer_key	INT	Unique and not null (PK) (eg.1)
customer_id	INT	Unique and not null (eg.11000) customer_number	VARCHAR(20)	Unique customer number (eg.AW00011000)
first_name	VARCHAR(20)	First name of customer (eg.Jhon)
last_name	VARCHAR(20)	Last name of customer (eg.Doe)
country	VARCHAR(20)	Country of customer (eg.Australia) marital_status	VARCHAR(20)	Marital status of customer (eg.Single/Married/NA)
gender	VARCHAR(20)	Gender of customer (eg.Male/Female/NA)
birthdate	DATE	DOB of customer (eg.YYYY-MM-DD)
create_date	DATE	Customer registered date in DB

2) gold.dim_products

Description : This dimension table provides detailed product catalog information, including product identifiers, category and sub-category hierarchy, pricing details, and product maintenance status.

Columns :

Column Name	Metadata	Description
product_id	INT	Unique and Not null (PK)
product_key	VARCHAR(20)	Unique product key (eg.BC-M005) product_name	VARCHAR(50)	Product name like (eg.Mountain Bottle Cage) category_id	VARCHAR(10)	Category id which is unique (eg.AC_BC)
category	VARCHAR(20)	Category name like (eg.Accessories)
sub_category	VARCHAR(50)	Sub category name like (eg.Bike Racks)
cost	DECIMAL(10,2)	Price of product product_line	VARCHAR(40)	Where product used (eg. Mountain/ Road) start_date	DATE	Start date of product
maintenance	VARCHAR(5)	Maintenance status like YES/ NO

3) gold.fact_sales

Description : This fact table captures transactional sales records, including order numbers, linked product and customer identifiers, key dates (order, ship, and due dates), and performance metrics like sales, pricing, and quantities.

Columns :

Column Name	Metadata	Description
order_number	VARCHAR(20)	Order number is unique
product_key	VARCHAR(20)	Unique product key (eg.BC-M005)
customer_id	INT	Unique identifier for the customer order_date	DATE	The date the order was placed ship_date	DATE	The date the order was shipped due_date	DATE	The date the payment for the order is due sales	DECIMAL(10,2)	Price of product quantity	INT	The number of product units ordered price	DECIMAL(10,2)	The unit price of the product